

Irish Projectionist

Rory O'Connor Designed, Operates Unique Facility in Michelson Lab

By Glenna Mayden

"Most of all, I would have liked to have been a singer," confessed Rory O'Connor, Michelson Laboratory Projectionist and designer-operator of the Lab's dual projection facility.

As Irish as the leprechaun, as friendly as the little men of Ireland's folklore, and directly descended from Roderick O'Connor, the last King of Erin, deposed in the 11th Century, Rory's every word and action typifies his European birth and education, as modified by the spirit of adventure and his enthusiastic approval of his adopted country.

O'Connor came to the Indian Wells Valley in the fall of 1950. He first worked as projectionist at the Ridge Theatre in Ridgecrest, and then, in April, 1951, accepted a position as clerk with the China Lake Post Office. He retained this last job for three years, until, in April, 1954, his status as a new citizen allowed him to accept a Civil Service appointment as Projectionist at Michelson Lab, responsible for all Station projection equipment.

Recognizing the need for more adequate equipment, O'Connor designed the Lab's Dual Projection Room Facility, to approximate as closely as possible, theatrical equipment giving really professional presentations. Built by the Public Works Department under his direction, the double projection system was initially utilized in September, 1958.

Emphasizing that the use of film—moving or still—remains a principal means of presenting information, the projectionist added that some 180 people in two conference rooms, may view films projected by his unique arrangement.

Rory's domain, the Projection Room, lies between two large conference rooms on the first floor of the Lab, with its floor built up about three feet above the rest of the building. Two lines of four projectors each are arranged so that every machine projects through its own "porthole" into one of the conference rooms. Control panels are placed against the walls and beneath the portholes and provide

Capt. Hollister Begins All-Hands Meeting

In order to gain more insight into employee viewpoint and to provide an opportunity for employees to ask questions of a general nature, Capt. W. W. Hollister, Station Commander, has begun the series of 33 All-Hands Meetings with personnel of all departments. The first meeting was held Monday for Command Administration Department employees.

All personnel may submit questions to their department head in advance of the meetings scheduled for their department. These questions will then be forwarded to Lt. L. J. Previati, Administrative Assistant to the Commander.

The February schedule of All-Hands meetings is as follows:

Date	Time	Place	Code

Women's Quartet Harmony Group Slates Songfest

Women interested in developing their talents along the "harmonious" avenues of barbershop quartet singing are invited to attend a songfest and organizational meeting in the Anchorage at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, February 21.

To highlight the meeting, the popular Coronettes from Pasadena and Judy Randall, Vice Regent of the Far Western District, will be here to stimulate interest and describe the function of the organization.

Known as the "Sweet Adelines, Inc.," an international non-profit group designed to educate its members in the art of four-part harmony, the organization is the feminine counterpart of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America (SPEBSQSA).

A trained voice, or technical musical background is not necessary, but an "ear" for music, or some knowledge of harmony is desirable.

Each individual chapter is an asset to its community. Sweet Adelines are the first to offer their talent for entertainment at civic events and charitable functions. In addition, a Sweet Adeline chapter promotes harmony among women, both vocally and spiritually.

The structure of the national organization was set up in Tulsa, Oklahoma, in October, 1947, and presently boasts almost 200 chapters with individual memberships of 5,000.

Little League Prospects May Apply Next Week

Applications for China Lake Little League baseball players will be distributed through the schools next Monday, February 16. It was announced this week by players' agent Pete Nicol. The applications should be returned to the schools by February 19, whether or not the boy played last year.

Any boy who will not be 13 years of age before August 1, 1959, is eligible. It is a policy of the local League that every boy who applies will be assigned to a team.

Tryouts will be held March 7, 14, and 21. This year, all 8-year-olds will be assigned to the AAA League and will not tryout. All other boys not already the property of an A League team must tryout on one of these days.

Meetings of China Lake Little League directors are held the first and third Mondays of each month in the Safety Building at 7:30 p.m. Adults who are able to help are invited to attend these meetings.

Three new managers were selected to replace retiring managers at the last meeting: Joe Hibbs replaces Buck Benton of the Dodgers; Joe Seibold replaces Raoul Landry of the Giants; and John Machowsky replaces Rudy Zagala of the Tigers.

All the retiring managers are congratulated for their effort and service to the Little League.

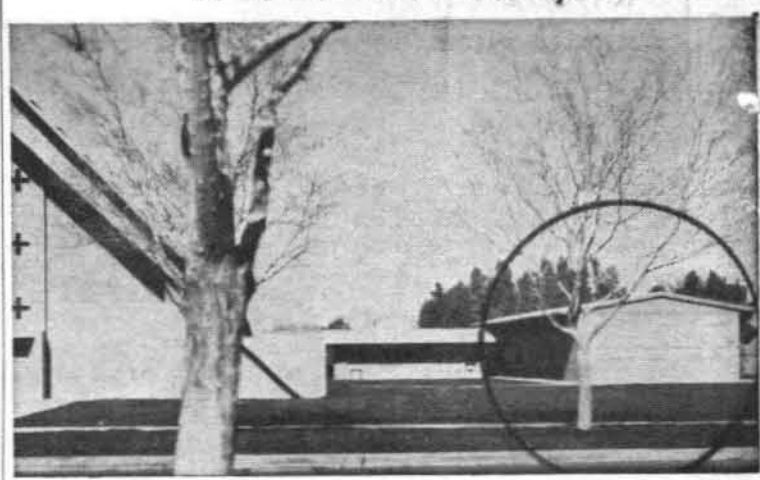

Irishman tried out for various parts, but his dreams were dampened when he learned that without membership in the then closed Actors' Equity he would receive no salary. Next best to actual participation in theatrical productions, he felt, was projection work, and he re-entered that field shortly before filing for American citizenship.

Rory received his first papers in 1949, and in December, 1953, he proudly related the receipt of American citizenship.

"The most thrilling of all my experiences was receiving American citizenship," O'Connor mentioned, "and I someday hope to travel throughout the country, learning more about it and its people." He has two sisters living in London and expects, sometime, to visit them.

Displaying sincere satisfaction and real contentment with his life, Rory's still strong interest in show business and the "nice things in life" occupy thoughts and efforts during much of his free time.

China Lake Schools Preparing Science, Math Fair Exhibits

Student understanding of scientific concepts will again be ably demonstrated Saturday, February 28, at the fourth annual Science and Math Fair to be held on the Burroughs High School Campus.

Exhibits are being prepared by each grade level, from kindergarten through senior high classes, and each exhibit or demonstration will present a course of scientific study undertaken by the group preparing the display. Each presentation is expected to demonstrate a mathematical or scientific principle, easily understandable to visitors; however, junior high and high school students will be available to discuss their projects during the hours of the Fair.

Elementary displays—study units directed by the teacher covering a topic chosen by the class—will be set up in the Burroughs auditorium and will present not only the principle involved, but also what actually happened in the classroom in development of the study unit.

Space travel is the project of one first and second grade group; a presentation on lumber, the growth pattern of trees and the uses of wood will be made by a fifth grade class and a sixth grade display will feature underwater activities.

Junior High and High School exhibits—the work of individuals or small, informal groups—will be displayed in the Junior Wing of the High School building. Exhibits in photography and Industrial Arts will be presented this year for the first time.

Representatives from the Grace Lutheran Church, NOTS Community Church, St. Michael's Episcopal Church and the Ridgecrest Community Methodist Church will participate in the program.

The public is invited to attend the service.

Chief Petty Officers' fees are $5 monthly; enlisted men under E-7 rating, $3 per month. Non-members may enjoy a full day on the course for the $3 green fees on weekends and holidays, or $2 during the week. Enlisted men below E-7 pay only fifty cents per day or $1.25 for weekends and holidays green fees.

Tuesday's Civic Concert To Present Tchaikowsky's Brilliant Piano Artistry

Third in the series of outstanding musical attractions scheduled for presentation to Indian Wells Valley residents will be the brilliant piano artistry of Andre Tchaikowsky at the Station Theater next Tuesday, February 17, beginning at 8:15 p.m.

Tchaikowsky's concert will include Mozart's "Fantasia and Sonata in C Minor"; "Sonata in E Flat Major," Opus 31, No. 3, by Beethoven; Bartok's "Musiques Nocturnes"; three Mazurkas by Szymanowski and Chopin's "Ballade No. 3" and "Four Etudes."

A prize winner in that contest, Tchaikowsky made a profound impression on audiences, critics and judges, among them Arthur Rubinstein, who considers the young man as "one of the finest pianists of his generation; he is even better than that—he is a wonderful musician."

Only 23 years of age, the Polish pianist—not related to the Russian composer—has captivated worldwide audiences and critics with his polished technique and his sensitive playing reflecting tonal beauty, excellent control and a real understanding of each composer's intent.

Tchaikowsky's personal history is filled with the horrors undergone during the German invasion of Poland in 1939 and the succeeding years spent in hiding or in escaping new dangers.

He entered the National Conservatory in Paris in 1948 and two years later, won the coveted First Medal. Upon returning to Poland

Activities Planned For JP Employees

Junior Professional employees at NOTS, although just entering their chosen profession following college graduation, are not forgotten upon arrival here. Since the Recruitment Panel activity is directly responsible for the hiring of many J.P.'s each year, and for the temporary employment of students in various positions during summer vacations, the Recreation Committee has become an active part of the Recruitment Panel.

Activities to be offered J.P.'s and Summer Students during 1959 include: field trip to Death Valley on Saturday, March 7, coordinated by John Feemster; a dance at the Community Center in May; swim party and trip to Whitney Portal in July; trip to Lake Isabella in August; a Hobby and Club Day and a Recreation Day, both in September.

October's activities will be a trip to Coso Hot Springs and a Wives' tour of the Station. Final program of the year will be the field trip to the ghost town of Calico in November.

All Junior Professionals and summer students, their wives, husbands or guests may participate in the activities. Those who wish to go to Death Valley on March 7 should make reservations for bus transportation with John Feemster, Ext. 9328, immediately.

Station-furnished buses, seating 70 adults, will depart at 7:30 a.m. from the Community Center parking lot. Those making the trip are asked to bring picnic lunches and beverages.

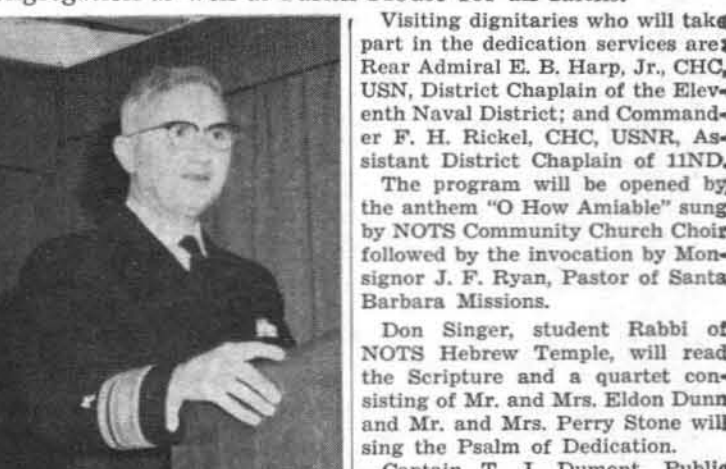

Persons wishing to be considered for housing, other than that in which they now reside, who are not on the present housing list, must file an application on or before February 27, 1959, announces C. J. Fallgatter, Head, Housing Division.

Applications received by February 27 will become effective on the housing list which will be in effect from April 1 through September 30.

Forms are available at the Housing Office. Applicants must file their request during regular working hours. The office is open Monday through Friday, from 7:30-11:30 a.m. and 12:30-4:30 p.m.

New Wing of All Faith Chapel Completed; Dedication Services Set for Next Sunday

Dedication services of the new wing of the All Faith Chapel will be held at 3 p.m. next Sunday, February 15. The edifice will serve as worship center for the Hebrew congregation as well as Parish House for all faiths.

RADM. E. B. Harp, Jr.

Visiting dignitaries who will take part in the dedication services are: Rear Admiral E. B. Harp, Jr., CHC, USN, District Chaplain of the Eleventh Naval District; and Commander F. H. Rickel, CHC, USNR, Assistant District Chaplain of 11ND.

The program will be opened by the anthem "O How Amiable" sung by NOTS Community Church Choir followed by the invocation by Monsignor J. F. Ryan, Pastor of Santa Barbara Missions.

Don Singer, student Rabbi of NOTS Hebrew Temple, will read the Scripture and a quartet consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Dunn and Mr. and Mrs. Perry Stone will sing the Psalm of Dedication.

Captain T. J. Dumont, Public Works Officer, will perform the dedication presentation and Captain W. W. Hollister, Station Commander, the acceptance.

Dedication prayer will be delivered by Rear Admiral E. B. Harp, Jr., of 11ND, followed by the Acknowledgment by Dr. Max Dubin, President of NOTS Hebrew Congregation. In addition to his participation in the services, RADM, Harp will speak at the 11 a.m. Protestant service in the All Faith Chapel.

Following the anthem "God Supreme, To Thee We Pray" by the choir, Cdr. R. H. Rickel, also of 11ND, will deliver the dedication address. The Reverend J. L. Reid, Jr., Pastor of NOTS Community Church, will close the dedication ceremonies with the Benediction.

Golf Club House Dedication Festivities Will Be Tomorrow

Day-long festivities will highlight the dedication of the China Lake Golf Club House tomorrow. Beginning at 9:30 a.m., activities will include a 9-hole tournament, driving and putting contests, dinner and dancing. Capt. W. W. Hollister, Station Commander, will present trophies for the day's winners at dedication ceremonies at 4 p.m., said Club president Floyd Rockwell.

The Club House culminates eight years of work by members to bring China Lake one of the finest courses in the area. In 1950, the sand course was constructed, followed by the 6 1/2-acre grass driving range four years later. It was not until June, 1956 that NOTS' golfers were able to play and compete on the present grass course which was designed by nationally known golfer Billy Bell, and is maintained by greenkeeper Pat Cropper.

The course was built with money from the recreation fund as a part of Special Services' activities. The entire operation is self-supporting, at no cost to the taxpayers.

The new Club House, completed in October, 1958, is a U-shaped structure comprised of three Butler Huts, and containing locker rooms, wash rooms, a snack bar open daily, the lounge and the Pro Shop where golf equipment may be purchased or clubs rented.

Every resident of the Indian Wells and Searles Valleys is invited to attend tomorrow's opening activities. The entire day's festivities will cost $1.25, which includes dinner, the tournament and dancing. Non-club members will pay the $1.25 festivities charge, and only $1 more for green fees. Anyone may participate in the driving and putting contests for an added 25 cents for each rivalry.

Membership in the China Lake Golf Club is open to all military personnel on the Station and to all Civil Service employees as well.

Fred Richards

Richards to Speak At Stove Pipe Wells

"Death Valley and Your Camera" will be the title of an illustrated talk to be presented by Fred Richards at the Stove Pipe Wells Hotel, Saturday, February 21, at 8 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Richards, a graphic arts coordinator for TID, will show his colored slides of Death Valley and explain the technique used in photographing them. His talk will cover effective camera angles, lighting, choice of subject, composition, detail, and exposure.

He has also served as a color consultant for the Photographic Society of America, and as a salon judge for the International Color Exhibits. His work has been exhibited at the Museum of Modern Art, New York, and the Eastman Kodak at Rochester.

Richards holds the rank of Major in the Civil Air Patrol, an auxiliary of the U. S. Air Force, and is commander of CAP Cadet Squadron 84 at China Lake.

NOTS Liaison Office Serves Vital Communication Function

The NOTS Liaison Office in Washington, D.C., and at NOTS, under the cognizance of the Head of Central Staff, was established in 1951 at the request of the Bureau of Ordnance to provide continuous liaison between NOTS and various Bureau divisions.

Duties of the Liaison Officer have broadened in scope since that time to include liaison with other agencies, both government and private, in Washington and surrounding areas.

Staffed with a Liaison Officer from NOTS whose tour of duty is for six weeks, and a full-time administrative assistant, a NOTS employee residing in the Washington area, the NLO duty is assigned to departments on a rotational basis.

In addition to the program benefits which result from the assistance of this office, experience as the Station's Liaison Officer is expected to provide a number of senior Station personnel with direct person-to-person contacts with Bureau personnel who deal with NOTS programs and problems.

The Washington Liaison Office is located in the Bureau of Ordnance, Room 4246A, Main Navy Building, 18th and Constitution Avenues NW, Washington, D.C. It is a "home away from home" for the NOTS visitor to the Washington area.

It assists personnel on travel with itineraries and hotel arrangements; appointments with personnel in the area, provides office space and storage for classified material, clerical help as necessary, or any other problem the traveler may have.

Station personnel are urged to check into the Liaison Office upon arrival in the Washington area as this provides a convenient point of contact with the Station.

Duties of the Liaison Officer include follow up on messages transmitted via the liaison call. This call is made daily at 9:45 a.m. Pa-
