CL Nursery Board Vote Discount For Family Enrollment

The Board of Directors of the China Lake Day Nursery Association last week approved tuition discounts when two or more children of a family are enrolled in the nursery school program.

A 15 percent discount is now allowed for two children and 25 percent for three. Part-time employment of the mother will qualify the children for this discount, as well as substitute teaching and WAE work.

Minimum participation in the regular program is two half days per week. Children enrolled in this program may, by advance arrangement, also participate on other days if space permits. Charges for extra attendance of less than a half day will be made at a rate of 50 cents per hour, and the luncheon fee is set at 50 cents.

It is hoped that this new arrangement will answer the needs of the employed mother in this community. Interested persons are urged to contact the Nursery School, Ext. 71398, for further information.

All Star Softball Team Plays Kernville Tonite

The NOTS All Star softball team composed of the top players in the Station intra-mural league travel to Kernville tonight to play the local town team. In last weeks game at Edwards AF Base the NOTS team lost a 7-3 decision. In another game played last weekend the NOTS team dropped a 12-3 game to the prison nine at Tehachapi.

He will join the Reno team in the California league for the 1963 season and will be put on the Los Angeles Dodger roster at the end of the 1963 season.

Carrying Guns

WASHINGTON—Military personnel required to carry guns, either concealed or in the open, while traveling on commercial planes are exempt from the restriction of recent laws making the carrying of firearms on commercial planes a crime.

A recent Defense Department order (directive 5500.9) specifies however that those missions will not be "compromised" by revelation that they are carrying guns.

New PAL Flight Schedule

The NOTS Travel Branch has announced a revised Pacific Air Lines schedule which will go into effect July 1, 1962. No change is made, however, in the flight itinerary, and no flights will be made on holidays.

Welcome Aboard!

Summer Program Brings 54 College Students Here

Fifty-four students and 17 faculty members from 50 colleges and universities across the country will serve on the NOTS research and development team this summer, according to Robert C. Nelligan, Personnel Department recruitment coordinator.

Here to acquire experience in their chosen study fields, the majority of the students will be assigned to the Test, Aviation Ordnance, Weapons Development, Propulsion Development, Research and Engineering Departments. The remainder will work in the Public Works, Personnel and Technical Information Departments with one assigned to the Office of the Assistant Technical Director for Plans, and one to the Central Office.

Two girls, Karma Groop, Pomona, Calif., and Judith Heitz, Marycrest College, Iowa, will be assigned, respectively, to the Aviation Ordnance and Research Departments. The faculty members will serve as consultants to Navy scientists in their academic specialties.

Each collegiate employee is afforded an insight into the Navy's major research and development center operation during their summer stay. According to Personnel officials, many summer employees enter government work after graduation following exposure to professional growth opportunities at NOTS. The summer employment program originated here 15 years ago.

Car Safety Check, Bumper Decals Due For All Personnel

A program of traffic safety and control aboard the Naval Ordnance Test Station that will feature as its objectives, financial responsibility on the part of private vehicle owners, plus a nationally recognized auto safety check system, will be in effect here by late summer.

Station officials this week said that the program will not impose on the community any "new regulations or restrictions," except for a safety check which will bring the Station abreast of communities throughout the nation in the drive for automobile safety.

One of the program's unique aspects will be the use of IBM punch cards for registration. These will be distributed by mail to all Station residents. All information collected on these cards will be maintained by IBM machine.

These data will include certification of required liability auto insurance, expiration dates of policies in effect and information pertinent to registration and ownership.

This card will reflect basically the same information currently listed on vehicle pass applications now in use.

Officials at Security Department point out that the new system will be less expensive to maintain and be more efficient while providing greater convenience to vehicle owners.

Issuance of the punch card is to begin August 1. Vehicle owners will be encouraged to return the card by August 31.

In conjunction with this program, private vehicle owners will be required to have their cars safety checked at check stations aboard the Station (Navy Exchange service station), service stations in Ridgecrest, Inyokern, Trona, Red Mountain and Randsburg.

Check stations will be authorized to award a safety check decal for windshield display, once privately owned cars have successfully completed the check.

Bumper decals, identifying the vehicle and indicating liability insurance expiration dates, will be mailed to car owners following receipt of the IBM card that certifies that required insurance is in force, and that the car has been safety checked.

The renewed traffic safety program, according to the National Safety Council in addition to numerous automotive clubs, supports a national program endorsed by President Kennedy.

It is currently in effect in communities throughout a fifty-state area, it was pointed out.

Local officials noted that Station roads are legally "privately owned" and do not fall under the jurisdiction of the California State Vehicle Code. The program is designed to comply with existing SecNav directives which seek to establish conditions on Naval installations as close to state laws as possible.

NEWS ROUND-UP

- Govt. Housing Better
- AF Cadets at San Diego

WASHINGTON — Believe it or not, government housing you may be living in is better than you could afford as a civilian. At least that's what a government committee said in a recent report to the Secretary of Defense.

"Capehart program has generally produced housing which is equal or superior to comparable housing in the same price range with respect to quality of planning, design, construction, materials, workmanship and equipment," the report said.

SAN DIEGO — "Operation Falcon," a program designed to acquaint the Air Force Academy's class of 1965 with other branches of the Armed Services is underway at the Naval Training Center at San Diego. The program, lasting six weeks, will take the cadets to Army, Navy and Air Force bases all over the U. S.

The 400 class members are being shown how the Navy provides training to its shipboard sailors, including various aspects of anti-air warfare, sonar operation and fire-fighting.

PLAY IT SAFE! Summertime Tosses Kids' Cares to Winds

Last Wednesday evening a two-year-old boy was injured when he ran into the side of a Navy vehicle while playing in a street in the Site B Capehart Housing Area. He could have been killed, but the driver was alert.

Unfortunately, all drivers are not alert drivers. And, now that school is out, all school children (and their younger brothers and sisters) are releasing their pent up energies which have lain dormant during the past few months.

So if all drivers aren't alert drivers and all children have thrown caution to the winds, whose shoulders does the burden of protecting our children's lives fall on? The parents, of course.

Bill Thomas, head, Safety Operations Division, reports that many children are playing dangerously close to street sweepers' whirling brooms. If a child should get too close the operator will be powerless to keep the doomed youngster from being swept to his death in the machine's bowels before the equipment can be stopped.

Once again — who can prevent such a tragedy from happening? The parents, of course. Through carefully supervising their children's recreation, and by keeping them off the streets, China Lake parents can insure a safe and happy vacation time for their families.

CHAPLAIN'S MESSAGE

Let's Build Faith On A Strong Foundation

The faith of a human being, like a house, is built. Like a house, too, it can fall apart. Not all at once, but board by board, rafter by rafter, beam by beam. Watch a house caught in a hurricane, torn by the wild winds. It stands, shuddering, trembling in every joint and cross beam. It sways; the boards groan. Swaying drunkenly, the corner posts move dangerously out of line. There she goes!

board after board under the strain. Take a film in slow motion, and you will see the gradual weakening — a board-by-board surrender to the storm. So is a living faith lost—not all at once, but bit by bit. Stormy weather merely serves to dramatize what is occurring slowly through the years—in real estate and in human souls. But there is no faith, dashed to earth in the howling hurricanes of the spirit that cannot be rebuilt. It may take patience to lift the fallen timbers; but gradually, the house of faith can

POOL REGS STRESSED FOR SEASON AHEAD

Now that the Station pool is being used to full capacity, residents utilizing this recreational facility should give more than just a passing glance to the rules governing proper conduct at the swimming pool, according to the Special Services Officer.

These regulations are implemented in the interest of enhancing safety and sanitary conditions, thereby creating an enjoyable atmosphere for both youngsters and adults.

The pool is open seven days a week during the school vacation from 1 to 8:30 p.m. You are required to show your station pass and sign the register at the gymnasium when entering and leaving the pool.

Personal supervision for children 12 years of age and under must be provided by a responsible person, regardless of whether the youngster be in the swimming or wading pool enclosure. Diapered tots must also wear tight plastic pants.

Upon Entering Swimmers will not be permitted to enter the water unless they have first showered. This procedure must be repeated when re-entering from the patio. For obvious reasons, no street shoes are allowed.

Smoking, gum chewing, eating or drinking is absolutely prohibited in swim areas. In addition, alcoholic beverages may not be brought to the patio.

Don't endanger the young set by running, shoving or roughhousing. Extend the same courtesy and consideration required of you as a guest in a private pool.

Caution Air mattresses, inner tubes, inflated balls, etc., must be kept in shallow water.

Persons swimming in water over their heads are expected to be able to swim two widths of the pool.
