'Chit Book' Plan In Effect For EDR Members

A new Executive Dining Room plan — designed to benefit both the patron and the club — goes into effect today for all current members.

Based on the "chit" system, the plan offers members a $10.00 "chit" on a monthly basis, $7.00 of which is redeemable in the dining room during evening meals.

The balance of $3.00 represents the member's dues for the month.

An alternate plan provides $6.00 "chit books," $2.00 of which is redeemable for evening meals and the remaining $4.00 represents dues payments.

The "chit books" must be purchased on a monthly basis, issued to club members this week.

Faced with financial problems since early this year, Executive Dining Room officials said the plan would offer club membership benefits and, at the same time, guarantee club patronage.

Purchases made in excess of the redeemable "Chit Book" value may be paid in cash, it was pointed out.

Either type of the "chit book" entitles members to full club privileges.

Officers Club Closed for Repairs Saturday, Sunday

The Commissioned Officers Mess (Open) and the Executive Dining Room will be closed Saturday and Sunday for resurfacing of floors, according to club manager Paul Diehl.

Social Security Rep. To Be Here on May 6

A Social Security representative from the Bakersfield office will be at the Community Center from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. on Wednesday, May 6.

Chutists, Jets to Highlight 'Armed Forces Day' Here

Parachuting demonstrations and a high speed fly-by, utilizing some of the world's fastest aircraft, will set the tempo for this year's Armed Forces Day activities during "open house" to be held here Saturday, May 16.

The Station's gates will be opened to the public from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., with the morning hours devoted to Naval Air Facility activities.

Burroughs high school band is scheduled to give a concert, raising the curtain on the morning's program.

Static displays of aircraft and equipment will be erected in the hangar areas for public inspection throughout the morning.

The "China Lake Skydivers," a local parachuting club, will lead off the aerial portion of the show with demonstration jumps. This will be the club's public debut.

A drone demonstration, high-speed fly-by, firefighting demonstration and helicopter rescue will complete the program at the Naval Air Facility. Some 22 displays and exhibits

20th Wildflower Show Blooms Thru Weekend

SYMBOLIZING THE 20TH china year anniversary of the China Lake Wildflower Show, this giant fluted dish seats Anne Gilmer, chairman of table arrangements, as she discusses displays to be seen when the show opens at the China Lake Community Center this Saturday and Sunday. Other members of the group (l-r) are Rhea Blenman, flower show co-chairman; Carrie Reck, co-chairman of staging committee; Toni Hoppe, chairman of pickers committee, and Navy Captain Floyd F. Reck, designer and builder of the display.

This Year's Theme: China Anniversary

The Twentieth Annual Wildflower Show blossoms forth tomorrow and Sunday at the Community Center with a theme that is not only historic and nostalgic for the local area, but truly unique.

The theme is "China Lake's China Anniversary."

Traditionally, any 20th annual observance is known as the China Anniversary. And so, this is the only year that theme may be used.

For sheer beauty and variety it could turn out to be one of the best shows in recent years, for the winter and early spring have been kind to the parched ground. There was more snow and rain than last year. Thus, there are more desert blossoms and a greater variety available.

Wildflower pickers and arrangers will be busy all day today, and perhaps far into the night, preparing the myriad of displays in the Community Center.

Wildflowers for arrangements will be available from 1 to 10 p.m. Friday and from 7:30 to 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

Junior Division arrangements are to be made from 3:30 to 5 p.m., Friday.

All entries must be in place by 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

The show officially opens at 1 p.m. tomorrow and will be open until 10 p.m. It reopens at 10 a.m. Sunday and closes at 8 p.m. Photographers will be allowed to take pictures from noon to 1 p.m. tomorrow.

The Fresno visitors are to be honored at a reception at the Commissioned Officers' Mess this evening.

NOTS Hosts Fresno Navy League

A delegation of 18 members of the Fresno Council, Navy League of the United States, was scheduled to arrive here late Thursday evening for a familiarization tour of NOTS facilities.

Scheduled to remain here through Saturday morning, the visitors toured the ranges at China Lake this morning and were extended a welcome address by Captain Charles Blenman Jr., Station Commander.

Following a tour of Michelson Laboratory early this afternoon, the group was to hear a special presentation by Dr. Pierre St. Amand, Head of Earth and Planetary Sciences division, on his observations in Alaska following the recent earthquake.

The Fresno visitors are to be honored at a reception at the Commissioned Officers' Mess this evening.

CHAPLAIN'S MESSAGE

Talks With Teenagers

By Fr. Joseph A. Costa, O.F.M. CAP.

When to go steady? The answer depends upon when you will be free to marry.

Modern girls are not marrying (in general) too much younger than their grandmothers.

The boy friend, who may be marrying at least five years earlier than his grandfather, is almost unfit for marriage before he is 22 or more.

The boys in these particular cases oftentimes never complete their education, take lower paying jobs with little future.

Most of the time one or both parties are spoiled by this setup. If not, then the tensions of living in such circumstances are enough to blow these marriages sky high.

And where does the fault lie? It is in steady dating too young. Don't think anything is wrong with a high school student who does not date.

Australia Is 'World Around Us' Theme Monday

Australia—"the coming country of the world"—will be the subject of Charles Forbes Taylor next Monday evening.

This will be the final program in the current series sponsored by the China Lake Community Council.

The color motion picture to be presented by Dr. Taylor, world-renowned lecturer, author and humorist, gives a real-life study of the continent down under, from aborigines and their boomerangs to the cultured cities of Sydney, Melbourne and Brisbane.

It also tells of Australian distinctiveness. The people speak English, but with an accent that could be only Australian.

The program begins at 7:30 p.m. Tickets may be obtained at the door.

Navy Scientists Studying Glass Hulls for Subs

Washington (AFPS)—An old saying may have to be altered to read "sailors who live in glass submarines shouldn't throw topdecks."

Navy scientists have found that common glass has "a considerable potential" as a structural material for submarine hulls.

Researchers are the David Taylor Model Basin near Washington, according to the Navy's Bureau of Ships, doing hydrostatic tests on hollow glass cylinders and spheres have found glass to have an outstanding strength-to-weight advantage over any other type hull.

The Navy says although the chief advantage of using surface compressed glass is its high strength-weight characteristic, deep-depth craft could perhaps use its transparency with TV cameras.

'DESERT PHILOSOPHER'

Kids' Stuff

By "POP" LOFINCK

Dr. Pierre St. Amand — a NOTS scientist — acquired a couple of goat kids for his own kids.

The goats were captured in the rough mountainous malpais terrain of San Clemente Island by sailors stationed on the island. The goats are very small, but can move fast on their little feet.

MAYBE PIRATES PUT THEM THERE

Exactly how the goats got on San Clemente Island—50 miles out in the ocean from the mainland—is not known. It is presumed they were originally put there by the early explorers or pirates—as an emergency food supply in the event of shipwreck.

The pirates had a sort of base at Pirate Cove where they hid their loot in caves. Anyhow it was a long time ago. It took a few centuries for the goats to get well established on San Clemente Island.

But only a few days for the San Clemente Island goats to get established on this Mojave Desert at China Lake.

THEY THINK THEY'RE PEOPLE

Already these goat kids think they're people. Quite tame. Pierre's kids lead them around on a leash like dogs — and they have a lot of fun.

That shows how the young of a wild species quickly become friends with the young of the human species.

All the kids in the neighborhood enjoy these little goat kids. And the goat kids reciprocate the interest.

Pet goats become quite playful. A friend of mine had one that liked to stand on its hind legs and try to push him over. If he pushed over the goat before the goat pushed him over, he goat was still happy. If properly brought up, goats are good sports.

LAWNMOWER WITH FOUR-LEG DRIVE

There may be a future for the San Clemente Island goats at China Lake as natural lawn mowers (not moers—only cows moo).

Just tether the goat on a long line to a picket pin and when it gets a circle mowed clean—just move the picket pin.

Or better still put a 5-foot wire mesh fence around your lawn temporarily and let the goats have a ball.

Goat's milk makes a good cheese. Also a full grown goat makes a good butter—with its head of course.

A whole class of kids came over from school to look at these goat kids in St. Amand's backyard.

All the kids had a glorious time. The little goat kids crave attention like puppy dogs.

LOVEABLE PLAYMATES — Eight-year-old Denali St. Amand finds that San Clemente Island goats are loveable playmates.

Golf Club Offers Month of Free Play!

Invitation Is Offered Only to Those Eligible

Hard Work Created Course from Hardpan

Charter member Floyd (Rocky) Rockwell paused during his backstroke last week long enough to reflect on the history of golfing here at China Lake.

One of the original NOTS golfers, he told how a group of "about 100" linksmen, yearning for a course of their own back in 1950, transformed typical desert topography into a crude, nine-hole, sand course.

"It was out by the back gate and the greens were a mixture of sand and oil. The fees were clay and dirt and the fairways were the natural hard stand of hardpan and sand.

"With a favorable wind and a straight-away shot, you could easily reach a par-four hole on your first shot," recalled Rockwell.

"Greener Pastures" As the Station progressed, it was a natural evolution for that original group of golfers to look toward greener pastures . . . fairways and greens in this case.

Construction was begun on the present course in 1955 with the cooperation of Command. Designed by Billy Bell, Jr., son of the famous west coast golf course designer, the nine-hole course was ready for play in July 1956.

"Not before many hundreds of back-breaking hours by volunteer club members, though," he continued. "Land had to be cleared, foundations laid for tees and greens, water pipes laid.

"Some of the old-timers may recall a hustling Navy Commander who served as the golf course construction chairman during this period," noted Rockwell.

Future ComNOTS Now a 4-striper who's scheduled to assume duties as Commander of the Station this year, Captain John Hardy should be able to enjoy some of the fruits of his early-day labors, according to Rockwell.

The present club organization was formed in October 1956 and its charter president, Dura Pinkerton, gavelled the club into a new era of golfing.

Successing Presidents include Bill Cummings, Floyd (Rocky) Rockwell, "Doc" Greaney, John Machowsky, Jim Greenfield and the club's present leader, Capt. "Mac" McCreery.

A spokesman for the "Old-timers" said, "We've had top management and Station Command behind us all the way in developing the Course as a community recreation facility.

"The first 9-holes were acquired under Capt. F. L. Ashworth, work was started on the second 9-holes during Capt. W. W. Hollister's tour here and were completed under our present Station Commander, Capt. Charles Blenman Jr."

Future plans for the Golf Course call for an improved watering system, further Club House improvements, and a grounds beautification program with Tamarisk hedges to break the wind and provide protection for the Course.

Again, it will be community effort that will make it one of the finest recreation facilities in the desert area.

"GET ACQUAINTED" INVITATION

During the month of May, the Golf Club extends an invitation to all members of the China Lake community eligible for membership, and who have never been members of the club, to enjoy one month of free play.

Families, as well as individuals, are welcome to participate.

When you come to the course, please contact Paul Someson, the golf professional, and he will assist you in every way possible. Beginners golf classes for ladies, men and juniors will be conducted during May if there is sufficient interest. Sign up at the club house with Paul and get acquainted with our golf course.

SPORTS SLANTS

By CHUCK MANGOLD

The Station Intramural Softball League season opens Monday, May 11, with a six-team league. Three military teams, VX-5, NAF and NOTS have entered teams along with Public Works, Ridgcrest Merchants and the Kunz Photo Supply Co. (formerly Central Staff).

The Ridgecrest Merchants, defending champions, have Denny Crager running the ball club again this season. Bert Andreason and Bob Kochman will do the pitching for the Merchants.

Pete Zamarron and Lupe Reyes have a vastly improved Public Works team. Bill Brown will do the pitching for the team. Joe Siebold and Ross Clayton have added Max Smith and Bill Underwood to the Kunz Photo team. With Bert Galloway on the mound, this will be a tough club to beat.

The military teams are loaded with new talent and will be in the running for the championship throughout the season. Two games will be played each night, Monday through Thursday.

'RED PIN' BOWLING STARTS TODAY

Starting today and continuing throughout the summer each Friday will be "Red Pin" day at the China Lake bowling alley. Each time the "Red Pin" comes up as the number one pin and the bowler bowls a strike he will be awarded a certificate good for one free game. Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays are open bowling days at the lanes.

LEARN TO USE SKIN DIVING EQUIPMENT SAFELY

The local Sage Sharks diving club is planning a Skin and Scuba Class. All persons over 16 are invited to join the class which will start Saturday, May 2, at 9 a.m. at the Station pool. All those wishing to take the class will be required to furnish their own facemask, snorkel and fins. For further information contact Barbara Frederick, FR 52758.

Play Ball! Little League Opens Monday

That familiar cry of springtime will ring out loud and clear Monday when the first round play for Little League Majors begins.

The Pirates will open against the Dodgers on Diamond No. 3, and the Red Sox and Yankees will battle it out on No. 4.

Little League officials announced this week that season activities are progressing in accordance with the schedule of events given to all parents at the beginning of the year.

A meeting of all Minor League managers (AA) was held Monday to complete plans for both the Minor League tryouts tomorrow and the Minor League draft to be held next Monday.

Parents and boys are reminded that tryouts tomorrow are for boys nine through 12 years of age who have not been placed on a Major League roster. Also, those boys who have been practicing with Major League teams but were not placed on a roster do not need to attend this tryout.

Players at all levels of play will be assigned to teams next week. Practice for Minor, Farm, and T-Ball teams will begin the week of May 11.

It was also announced this week that official opening season ceremonies will be held on Thursday, May 28, and that the Los Angeles Angels' office has agreed to have two of their play-

Local Bowmen Take Part in Fresno Safari

Eight members of the China Lake Bowmen participated in the record-breaking Fresno Safari last weekend.

Registration at the tournament totaled 863, representing the largest individual archery club turnout ever recorded in the world.

The local archers who competed were Johnnie and Jack Nelson, Madge and Ken Bryant, Sheila and Bob Stedman and Patti and Bob Beyer.

Patti was the only one to win a trophy, but it was not for marksmanship. She was named Queen of the Safari!

The China Lake archers will be in action here one week from tomorrow, May 9, when they shoot in the Park Round at the field range. Everyone is welcome.
