

Ghost town photo workshop slated in Nevada this weekend

An intensive three-day workshop in ghost town photography sponsored by the China Lake Photographic Society will be held this weekend at various mining towns of central Nevada.

Workshop participants can expect to drive about 600 miles round trip over good roads in the area of Tonopah, Nev. The group will meet at Goldfield, Nev. tomorrow morning. To reach this site, participants are advised to travel across Death Valley to Beatty, Nev., and go north on Highway 95 about 65 miles.

There are few motels in the area. Campers and tents are suitable, since the area is controlled by the Bureau of Land Management. It is also recommended that participants take along packed lunches.

The workshop will be instructed by John Dunker, who has been shooting photographs in mining towns for nearly 20 years and has worked with Cerro Coso Community College and Carmel photographer Al Weber in teaching other workshops. This weekend's event, which will end Monday, will concentrate on the effects of light upon the texture and shape of the land and man-made objects.

Because enrollment in the workshop is limited to 30 students, persons interested in participating should immediately phone Art Siegel, photo club president, at 446-4704, or instructor Dunker at 375-9362 in order to reserve a place in the class.

Fee for the field trip is $10 for club members and $20 for others. Non-members may wish to join the club at this time, since the membership fee for a year would cover the extra cost of this trip and would provide for other field trips at member rates.

Swap meet, garage sale set at college tomorrow, Sunday

A community swap meet and garage sale will be held at Cerro Coso Community College on Saturday and Sunday, under the sponsorship of the Fire Mountain Foundation in order to provide funds for the support of college activities.

The swap meet will open at 9 a.m. and close at 5 p.m. on Saturday, and will operate from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday. Commercial establishments, community organizations and individuals are invited to participate as sellers.

Swap meet space is available for a charge of $2 per seller, and the latter will be required to donate 10 per cent of their gross sales to the foundation. Buyers will be admitted free of charge.

Space limitations will allow no more than 50 sellers to participate, and reservations will be accepted in the order in which they were received. Interested sellers may obtain entry forms at the college reception desk, and, in Ridgecrest, at the Daily Independent newspaper office and Sports Etc.

Tickets on sale for CPO Club's Navy Birthday Ball

Tickets, priced at $12 per couple, are now on sale at the Chief Petty Officers' Club for the Navy's 202nd Birthday Ball, which is to be held there on Oct. 29.

The semi-formal affair will begin at 7 p.m. and the dinner special will be prime rib served at 8. Dancing to the music of the 11th Naval District Dance Combo from San Diego will follow from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Reservations for this event may be made at the time the tickets are purchased or by calling the CPO office at NWC ext. 3633.

THE SPIRIT REMAINS — Nearby Randsburg, in this photo by John Dunker, exhibits generally the same environment as do the central Nevada ghost towns which workshop participants will visit this weekend under the auspices of the China Lake Photographic Society. Reservations for the three-day field trip, which begins tomorrow, should be made immediately.

GLOTA's 'Clear Day' opens tonight at Burroughs High lecture center

TECHNICAL DIRECTOR AWARD PRESENTED — In recognition of his outstanding contribution to the Trident missile test program, the NWC Technical Director's Award was presented to Roy B. Johanboeke. ### Roy Johanboeke honored

Technical Director Award presented for outstanding Trident missile test work

The Naval Weapons Center's Technical Director Award was presented Monday morning at the weekly Commander's meeting to Roy B. Johanboeke, head of the Ballistic Test Branch in the Range Department's Quality Assurance Division.

According to R. M. Hillyer, NWC's acting Technical Director who made the presentation, Johanboeke was singled out for this distinction in recognition of his outstanding contribution to the Trident missile test program.

It was noted by Hillyer that the Trident missile program was in serious trouble in the spring of 1974, following a second stage motor failure that brought full scale motor static testing at the contractor's facilities to a halt.

At that time, the Naval Weapons Center was selected as the interim test site and an immediate effort was initiated to perform the testing here at the Skytop static test facility.

Under Johanboeke's guidance, new test facilities were designed and constructed, a data acquisition system was conceived and put into operation, and more than 50 Trident motors have subsequently been tested, it was stated in the letter of commendation that was presented by Hillyer. The honoree also received an engraved paperweight and a $200 stipend which accompanies this special form of a Superior Achievement Award.

"Only with your efforts was it possible for the (Trident) program to pass a significant milestone of the first successful free flight tests earlier this year," NWC's acting Technical Director wrote in the letter of commendation to Johanboeke. Note also was made of the credit reflected upon the Naval Weapons Center by the work that was accomplished by Johanboeke and others who were cited in a letter of commendation received from Rear Admiral Levering Smith, a former associate Technical Director of the U.S. Naval Ordnance Test Station in the early 1950s, who is currently Director of Strategic Systems Projects for the Department of the Navy in Washington, D. C.

Adm. Smith, a retired Navy officer who has returned to active duty, recalled that following the contractor's problem with the Trident motor static testing in May 1974, (Continued on Page 5)

7.05% pay increase approved by Pres. Carter

President Jimmy Carter has approved a 7.05 per cent pay increase for all military personnel and white collar civilian government employees. It will become effective on the first pay period after Oct. 1.

In the case of military personnel, 12 per cent of the pay increase will be reallocated to basic allowance for quarters (BAQ). This means that the actual increase in basic pay will total about 6.2 per cent, according to the Navy's Chief of Information.

The increase in the basic allowance for subsistence (BAS) for military personnel will remain at 7.05 per cent, it was added.

The amount reallocated to BAQ will be returned to single military personnel in the form of an increased BAQ payment. This same rebate method was used last year and recognizes the fact that bachelor quarters and ship's berthing do not provide more value to the service member than the normal BAQ amounts forfeited.

Some doubt was expressed here by payroll employees that the cost of living increase will show in military paychecks scheduled for distribution next Friday, Oct. 14. This is due to the fact, The ROCKETEER was informed, that individual leave and earning statements for military personnel hadn't been received prior to midweek from the Navy Finance Center in Cleveland, Ohio. However, because of the Columbus Day holiday on Monday, the next military payroll will have to be completed no later than today.

The across-the-board increase for Federal Civil Service employees will begin with the pay period of Oct. 9 through 22, and is expected to be reflected in Civil Service paychecks that will be issued on Oct. 28.

119 RIF notice cancellations issued this week

There were 119 reduction in force (RIF) notice cancellations issued this week to Naval Weapons Center employees. These cancellations were the result of retirements and vacancies offered due to normal attrition.

In addition, 63 amendments to RIF notices were generated as a result of the above changes. The amendments are a result of better offers or changed offers at the same grade level as the original offer.

A comparison of the data for the week of Sept. 12 and the week of Oct. 3 follows. The number of positions abolished was 122.

The impact as of Sept. 12 was: separations, 57; changes to lower grade, 174; reassignments, 84; retirements as a result of the RIF, 0; total number of employees affected, 315.

The latest impact of the RIF action as of Oct. 4 was: separations, 2; changes to lower grade, 130; reassignments, 63; retirements as a result of the RIF, 15; total number of employees affected, 195.

More changes are expected between now and Nov. 20, and the NWC Command will make information available as these changes occur.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK PROCLAIMED — As part of a nationwide effort aimed at increasing people's awareness of the need for taking safety measures where they work and live in order to prevent fires, a Fire Prevention Week proclamation was signed by Rear Admiral William L. Harris, Jr., NWC Commander, and Don Chizez, vice mayor of Ridgecrest. Present for signing of the proclamation designating the period of Oct. 9 through 15 as Fire Prevention Week were (at left) Oliver Watson, acting Kern County fire marshal; and Darrell Johnson, NWC's fire prevention chief. Seated at right are Carrie Gleason, a fire prevention technician from the Bureau of Land Management's office in Bakersfield, and Reid Hopkins, a fire prevention technician from the U.S. Forest Service's Cannel Meadows Ranger Station in the Sequoia National Forest.

Fire Prevention Week annual observance scheduled Oct. 9-15

The annual observance of Fire Prevention Week, held each year on the anniversary of the great fire in Chicago which (in 1871) resulted in the loss of 250 lives and $200 million damages, will begin on Sunday and continue through next Saturday, Oct. 15.

This year, NWC Fire Division, the Kern County Fire Department, U.S. Forest Service and the Bureau of Land Management are uniting their efforts in an attempt to reach all school age youngsters with fire prevention messages based on the theme "Learn Not To Burn."

As a means toward this end, demonstrations in front of the Center theater will be presented by NWC Fire Division personnel and by fire fighters from the Kern County Fire Department.

The demonstrations outside the theater will be followed inside by the showing of movies and presentation of skits aimed at emphasizing the message of fire prevention in the home as well as in the forest.

Local chapter of ASQC wins 1976-77 Berg Award

The Sierra Sands Section of the American Society for Quality Control (ASQC) was recently notified that it has won the society's 1976-77 Berg Award for outstanding section management.

The local group, under the direction of section chairman Floyd Towner and C.A. Miller, Berg Award Committee chairman, earned 23,500 out of a possible 24,000 points in competition with a total of 90 other small sections eligible for the award.

The award was named in honor of Robert M. Berg, who died in 1969 while serving as chairman of ASQC's board of directors. It will be presented to the Sierra Sands Section at a later date.

throughout the local area are invited and encouraged to bring their students to the demonstrations, which will begin at 9:30 a.m. on Tuesday and be repeated at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, and at 9:30 a.m. next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

According to Darrell Johnson, assistant fire chief at China Lake, who is the Fire Prevention Week chairman, the outdoor demonstration of how fire fighters work will include the laying of fire hose and the use of various sizes and types of nozzles that will spray water from a pumper truck. In addition, firemen will be wearing their regulation fire-fighting gear, including self-contained breathing apparatus.

A part of this drill will be first aid treatment of a simulated fire fighting injury and evacuation of the "injured" man by the ambulance which responds routinely on all fire calls.

Movies, Skits on Program
Inside the theater, the program will feature two short movies about fire prevention and four skits on various aspects of preventing the outbreak of fires in the home and also in brush and forest-covered hills and mountain recreation areas of the state.

During Fire Prevention Week, all fire stations in the Indian Wells Valley will be open to the public from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Fire fighting apparatus will be on display and visitors will be able to obtain first-hand information pertaining to Fire Prevention Week from the firefighters who are on duty.

For those classes that are unable to attend the demonstrations at the Center theater, school teachers or administrators can make arrangements to have fire fighters visit their school to present information and answer questions about fire prevention.

ADAN Joe Beachboard chosen as Center's Sailor of Month

Aviation Machinist's Mate Airman Joe Beachboard, who works on the Aircraft Department's Cold Line, has been named the Naval Weapons Center's Sailor of the Month for August.

The 20-year-old honoree, as a plane captain for the T-39 Sabreliner and U-3 Cessna, performs pre-flight safety inspections of these aircraft. He also recently qualified as an aircrew flight attendant on the C-131 Hercules, and as such is responsible for the security of its cargo and passengers.

"This is a good job because I like to work on airplanes," says August's Sailor of the Month, who isn't sure just yet whether he'll be making the Navy a career.

According to his division officer, Lt. R. S. Hill, "During the five months ADAN Beachboard has been assigned to the Cold Line he has impressed all hands with his performance and military behavior."

Lt. Hill added, "Even though ADAN Beachboard has been heavily involved in his own training, he has always found time to aid others to progress through their respective training syllabi. This has been extremely helpful since the work center is undergoing a loss in qualified personnel while maintaining a constant work load."

A native of Kalispell, Mont., ADAN Beachboard entered the Navy in July 1976, after studying welding and heavy duty mechanics for a time at a vocational school in Anaconda, Mont. He says he was attracted by the Navy's training opportunities.

After attending boot camp in San Diego and "A" school in Memphis, Tenn., he reported to China Lake last January for his first duty assignment. ADAN Beachboard says he likes the local area because he's able to keep busy. In his spare time, the bachelor is now in his first year of studies at Cerro Coso Community College.

For his selection as Sailor of the Month, ADAN Beachboard will receive a 96-hr. liberty pass and a free dinner for two at The Shuttle.

NWC South wins soccer competition, leads in Admiral's Cup standings

By virtue of a win in last week's soccer competition, NWC South has taken over first place in the overall Admiral's Cup standings.

South's perfect record in the soccer matches meant five points in the standings, to give them a total of 10. In second place, after finishing third in soccer and earning only one point as a result of it, is VX-5, which now has nine points in the standings. NWC North placed second in soccer, earned three points, and now has a total of seven.

In the first game, on Monday, Sept. 26, the teams representing VX-5 and NWC South battled to a scoreless tie at the end of 40 minutes of regulation play. Crepuscular conditions, however, did not allow time for a sudden death period, so the game was decided by the best of five penalty kicks at the goal.

South won it at this point, thanks to the hard shooting of GMG1 Herb Haskin, who scored three goals to VX-5's two. Goalkeeping for the Vampires was AQ2

The scoring drive began on the BHS 45. It was sparked by a 13-yd. run by D'Errico and a 15-yd. sprint by Mike Tolliver, another of the Antelopes' speedy halfbacks, who was stopped on the BHS 15 yd. line. Tolliver then rammed for another 5 yds., and a pass from Wayland to McCool was good for 5 more yds. and a first down. Two cracks at the line by Tolliver gained

Results reported of youth soccer team competition

The Apollos scored a comeback victory over the Comets, 2-1, in the first game of the Youth Center soccer action at Davidove Field last Saturday, Oct. 1.

The Comets went ahead 1-0 on a goal by Doug Dragovich. The Apollos evened things up on a score by Lars Wong, and then went on to win on a last-second goal by Jim Kibbe. Greg Phillips and Leonard Pearl of the Comets played well in a losing cause.

The second game, also in the Pacific Division, saw the Spirits hold off the Cobras, 2-1.

Dan Webster and Chris Hammerburg scored goals for the winners. The Spirit defense, led by Scott Hamilton, held the Cobras to a single goal by Peter Heuber. Eric Wee and Carrie Corzine turned in greatly improved offensive soccer for the Cobras, and Tim Wee in the first half and Andy Corzine in the second, paced a good Cobra defense.

The third match of the day, in the American Division, went to the Cosmos, 3-2, over the Atoms.

Kjirsten Haaland and Bryan Lloyd's goals brought the Cosmos back from a 2-1 half-time deficit. Defender Mark Erickson and goalie Danny Owens shut out the Atoms in the second half after Rich Moreno and Bruce Ferguson scored for the Atoms.

Fire Prevention Week observance set . . .

On Saturday, Oct. 15, adults and older students are invited to attend a program at 2 p.m. at the Center theater the highlight of which will be the showing of a film entitled "In a Fire, Seconds Count." The movie is based on Operation EDITH ("Exit Drills in the Home").

Another phase of the local observance of Fire Prevention Week is a poster contest open to pupils in the kindergarten through third grades, and an essay contest for fourth through sixth graders. Awards will be presented to the youngsters from each

Youth footballers split contests with teams from Boron

Starting their regular season play on a mixed note, four Indian Wells Valley Youth Football League teams split their contests against Boron squads in games played last Saturday at Kelly Field, China Lake.

In the Freshman Division, the Vikings lost to their Boron counterparts by a score of 14-0; the local Eagles returned the favor, however, by blanking the Boron sophomores, 20-0; the Junior Division Chiefs were shut out by Boron, 18-0; and the IWW Raiders, in the Senior Division, beat Boron but allowed them to score, 12-2.

Beginning at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow at Kelly Field, the local Vikings, Eagles, Chiefs and Raiders, in that order, will play their counterparts from Tehachapi at approximately 1½-hour intervals, while the Chargers, Dolphins, Bears and Giants will begin their season play against Boron at Boron tomorrow morning.

Untitleds earn 3-2 win over intramural Soccer League foes

The Untitled team notched a win in its first Intramural Soccer League match of the season last week at Davidove Field.

The final score went 3-2 against the Kickers, who lost their second game in two starts. Roger DuChateau, visiting in this area last week, played for the losers and knocked in both their goals.

Untitled goalie Greg Cote made the defensive play of the match when he tipped an 18-yarder by Karl Kauffman of the Kickers over the crossbar. Marv Goodman dribbed the winning goal over the line late in the contest.

Intramural play continues each Tuesday at 5 p.m. at Davidove Field. A few openings remain on each of the league's three squads, and anyone who would like to sign on should report to the field on Tuesdays or Fridays at 5 p.m.

TOKEN OF APPRECIATION — Before leaving China Lake at the conclusion of an intensive two-week period of instruction on the proper assembly, checkout, maintenance, repair, loading and unloading of the Sidewinder guided missile, Maj. Manfred Heer (2nd from right) presented a plaque to Wayne Doucette, head of the Sidewinder Program Office at the Naval Weapons Center. Maj. Heer was in charge of a team of 10 officers and airmen from the Federal Republic of Germany Air Force who were here for the purpose of evaluating U.S. logistics concepts for the Sidewinder missile in preparation for establishing logistics and maintenance support requirements of their own. Others present at the time of the plaque presentation ceremony were (at left) Lee Sutton, NWC's foreign missile sales program manager for Sidewinder, and Maj. Peter Werner, of the German Air Force. ### China Lake Soccer Club's B team loses 4-1 match to Edwards

The B team of the China Lake Soccer Club (CLSC) lost a 4-1 match with its Edwards Air Force Base counterpart last Saturday at Davidove Field, thanks mainly to the fact that the visitors inserted a veteran playing coach in their lineup late in the game.

Steady goalkeeping by LCDr. Howard Wells helped the CLSC stay close early in the game. Edwards was unlucky not to have scored at the 6-min. mark as a hard shot from 16 yards skimmed off the top of the crossbar. But at 14 min., a kick from a scramble found its way past LCDr. Wells to give Edwards a 1-0 lead.

That score held until China Lake's Fred Parker was hacked down inside the penalty area at 44 min. into the game. Parker had to retire with an injured knee, and Tom Hennen converted the penalty to tie the match.

In the second half, Rus Birkhead took over the goalkeeping for China Lake. The best of his numerous acrobatic stops was a horizontal leap across the goal's mouth to turn a blast from 3 feet inside the right post to just inches outside. However, the CLSC team continued to sputter on offense.

Around the 60-min. mark, Edwards player-coach Steve DeBoer put himself into the contest and immediately warmed up his team's attack with intelligent passing. The visitors took a 2-1 lead at 70 min. due to a bit of confusion around the goalie's net.

Then, at 88 min., coach DeBoer was given lots of room to handle a pass at the 18-yard penalty line directly in front of the China Lake net, and he hoisted a shot over Birkhead and off the underside of the crossbar to make the count 3-1 in favor of Edwards.

Finally, at 89-min. DeBoer received the ball again and drilled it off the inside of the right goalpost to run the final score to Edwards, 4, China Lake, 1.

If a scheduled match between Edwards and Lancaster does not conflict, the Edwards and China Lake A teams will clash tomorrow at 1 p.m. at Davidove Field.

NWC team entered in flag football playoffs

A 17-man team representing the Naval Weapons Center will compete in the 11th Naval District's Northern Area flag football playoffs, which will be held Monday through Friday in Long Beach.

The top two teams emerging from this double-elimination affair will participate in the district finals slated Oct. 17 through 21 in San Diego. According to NWC Athletic Director Doug Nelson, "Last year our team placed third in the northern area eliminations. We may be able to do better this time around."

China Lake's 1977 gridders are all-stars chosen from the two Navy teams playing in the NWC Intramural League: the Hawks

PUNTER GETS BALL AWAY — Paul Riddle (No. 71) was called on to handle the punting chores for Burroughs High during last Friday night's varsity football game with Antelope Valley High School. Seen above, he is getting off a fourth down punt after the Burros' offense had stalled once again in the locals' 27-0 loss to the Antelopes. Charging in to rush the kicker is David Gilbert of AV, while the blocking back for Burroughs is Brian Bergh.

Byron Richardson wins OTHC 4-mile race

With a very fast time of 21 min., 44 sec., Byron Richardson won the Over-the-Hill Track Club's fourth annual four-mile race, which was held last Sunday on a flat course bordering the Desert Empire Fairgrounds in Ridgecrest.

Second place over-all was taken by Paul Tjogas (22:40), who, like Richardson, competed in the 19-29 age group. Howard Connolly, who ran in the 30-39 age group, finished third over-all with a time of 23:13.

Among 40 to 49-year-olds, first place went to Norm Nieberlein, whose 23:32 clip also earned him the fourth spot over-all. Nieberlein was presented a special trophy for turning in the fastest time by a runner in the master's class. The presentation was made by Jef Ansell, son of Jerry Ansell, past president of the OTHC and a former NWC employee.

Winners among those who competed in other age groups were as follows: 50 years old and over, Dick Wisdom (28:13); 11 through 13 years, Jeff Ansell (33:50); 14 through 18 years, Stan Hughes (24:40); girls 10 years and under, and also first place in the women's division, Leslie Wilson (28:14); women 19 through 29 years, Naomi Fujinami (33:54); and women 30 and over, Julie Smith (29:06).

Federal Women's Week award nominees announced

There has been a very good response to the second annual Federal Women's Week awards program which, on Oct. 20, will be culminated by the presentation of awards to at least four supervisors and six women employees of the Naval Weapons Center.

According to Karen Altieri, Federal Women's Program Coordinator at NWC, more than 40 Centerites have been nominated for these awards, which provide one of the few opportunities employees themselves have to recognize the achievements of their peers.

The criteria for the Supervisor's Award makes the competition very stiff, and the nominees had to be people-oriented civilian or military supervisors (or former supervisors), who have been supportive of furthering the career goals of female employees in the work force. In addition, those eligible for consideration as recipients of the Supervisor's Award also must have demonstrated task assignments or job restructuring which provided career growth based on ability or potential.

Supervisor's Award Nominees

Nominees for the Supervisor's Award are:

Gerald J. Auger, an electronics engineer, and LeRoy D. Marquardt, a general engineer, both in Code 35; Marcia P. Clark, an office services supervisor, Dillard G. Bullard, a general engineer, and Charles Cutsinger, an engineering technician, all in Code 36; Barbara L. Marine, a supply technician, MSCM Joseph Mestas, food services officer, Donna Gonder, traffic manager, and Karl C. Bird, a procurement officer, all from Code 25; A. #### Criteria for Selection

The nominees for Federal Women's Awards must be presently employed civilian or military women who have been working at NWC for at least one year, and who have made significant contributions to the Center's mission or to a specific program or project.

These efforts need not be limited to a technical area and may have been in administration, management, logistics, budget or any other vital support areas. Additionally, contributions may have been outside of the nominee's regular duties or career series.

Those nominated for the Federal

Women's Awards are:
Aleta Wallace, a printing assistant, Alberta L. Cox, an associate division head, Teresa Paulsen, an editorial assistant, PH3 Bonnie Beckman, a Navy photographer, and Velma M. Pickrell, a film library assistant, all in Code 23; Karen Roeser, an electronics engineer, L. Jane Williams, an electronics technician, Vivian Martin, clerk-DMT, Yvonne McCabe, business manager, Geneva L. Pullen, secretary, and Asenath Keith, secretary, all in Code 35; Elizabeth Gomez, a clerk, and Pat Stroud, budget technician, Code 08.

Pearson, head of the Technical Information Department; Capt. R. B. Wilson, head of the Public Works Department, and B. F. Connolly, deputy head of the Office of Finance and Management.

The awards will be presented by Rear Admiral William L. Harris, Jr., NWC Commander, during a banquet at the Community Center on the evening of Oct. 20.

Tickets for this event, which will mark the conclusion of the 1977 observance of Federal Women's Week at the Naval Weapons Center, are priced at $8 per person for a prime rib dinner with wine. Reservations can be made, or tickets purchased, by contacting any of the following Federal Women's Program Committee members: Karen Altieri, NWC ext. 2348 or 2738; Nan Outhier, ext. 5566, or Diane Haworth, ext. 7334.

The keynote speaker at the banquet will be Nichelle Nichols, who is better known for her role as Lt. Uhura in the television series "Star Trek."

Camera's-eye view of 1977 Desert Empire Fair parade

AMONG DIGNITARIES riding in the vanguard of the 1977 Desert Empire Fair parade were Rear Admiral William L. Harris, Jr., NWC Commander, and his wife, Jean. Later, speaking from the reviewing stand, RAdm. Harris, who has been on board for just a month, expressed his pleasure at being in the China Lake-Ridgecrest area and stated that he was looking forward to future occasions that will provide him the opportunity to meet many local area residents.

AGAIN THIS YEAR the mounted color guard from the Marine Corps Logistics Support Base, Pacific, at Barstow, led the Desert Empire Fair parade.

YOUNGSTERS ALONG the parade route were delighted at the appearance of Ronald McDonald.

MUSIC FOR MARCHING along the parade route was provided by the Burroughs High School band, directed by Donald Wilkinson and led by drum major Carol Boot.

THIS REPLICA of the USS Monitor, the Navy's first ironclad warship of the Civil War era, was entered in Saturday's parade through arrangements made by the Navy recruiter in Ridgecrest. Four Navy women from China Lake waved greetings to the viewers along the parade route.

TOPS IN THE horse-drawn vehicle category was this miniature pony-drawn stage coach that was entered in the parade by Bob Cornelius.

AS A REMINDER that Oct. 9 through 15 is Fire Prevention Week, the NWC Fire Division brought out the Navy's most modern aircraft fire fighting truck, the P4-A, for the annual DEF parade. Seen riding on top is Smokey the Bear, symbol of the U.S. Forest Service's fire prevention program.

STEPPING OUT SMARTLY, NWC's Sea Cadet Corps Division color guard and drill team garnered a trophy for its performance in the DEF parade last Saturday.

Technical Director Award presented . . .

and the decision to shift such work to NWC, the first test was accomplished in July 1974 and that extensive Trident motor detonation investigation/hazard evaluation testing and follow-on testing has continued to date.

"The rapid response of Naval Weapons Center personnel and the interest and dedication in support of the Trident program has contributed greatly to the accomplishment of the significant milestone of our first flight test in January of this year. Two additional flight tests have been carried out with the same success as the first flight," RAdm. Smith wrote.

The latter also conveyed the appreciation of the prime contractor and the missile motor subcontractor for the willingness of NWC personnel to devote many hours of overtime and weekend work in support of the Trident program, adding that such effort has been directly responsible for the success the missile program is now demonstrating. Johanboeke was nominated for the NWC Technical Director Award by Dr. G. W. Leonard, head of the Engineering Department and by John DiPol, acting head of the Range Department.

Major Contributor

They acknowledged that while the Trident test effort at NWC has been a team effort and its success has been the result of outstanding contributions by many individuals and groups, Johanboeke, as head of the Ballistics Test Branch, "stands out as the one individual who has done more than anyone else to achieve this commendation" (referring to the letter from RAdm. Smith).

An employee at China Lake for nearly 22 years, Johanboeke came here following his graduation from the Missouri School of Mines with a bachelor's degree in electronic engineering. After a year-long period of indoctrination under the Junior Professional program, he joined the Ballistics Test Branch (which he now heads) and has remained with that branch ever since.

Completion of the Skytop facility here during the 1958-59 time frame led to his involvement in test work in support of the Polaris missile program for a period of three or four years.

Countless Tests Conducted

Since that time, Johanboeke recalls, the Ballistics Test Branch has handled static testing of all of the missiles and related weapons systems developed at NWC. In addition, because of the facilities for this type of work that are available here, the Ballistics Test Branch has been involved in static test work for various Department of Defense contractors.

He and his branch, (now Code 6211 in the Range Department) expect to continue their efforts in connection with the large rocket motor test business for some time to come, the latest recipient of the NWC Technical Director Award stated.
